A clearer starting point.

A small guide to a considered workspace.

01 Build with reusable pieces.

02 Keep your business logic separate.

03 Make the defaults your own.

Small steps. Shared progress.

Parallel workstreams move independently.

Design, engineering, and operations each have a track.

The final integration unlocks when everyone is ready.

Use the playground to explore each checkpoint.

Room to make it yours.

Start with a clean foundation and a clear structure.

Copy the template folder. Pass your own data.

Choose your palette and export your theme.

Now build something useful.
